

What Are You Here For Anyway?

Proxe Station Instructions

Introduction and Invitation

- Do the proxe station yourself. Become acquainted with the options. Think through how you decided to come to college.
- Smile.
- ‘Hi, my name is _____ and I’m a part of the Christian Fellowship on campus. We’re asking people to do a quick survey on why you’re here. Would you like to participate and also see what other people put?’
- ‘Take these sticker dots and go from left to right. I’ll ask you some questions at the end. Blue for guys and red for women.’

Followup Question

- Which question did you find most interesting? How come?
 - Chase that one down a bit more to get to know them
- What is your sense of purpose shaped by? Family? Media? Sports?

Important Questions to Ask Anytime:

- Do you think that a self-centered person can truly be happy? I mean, if I’m self-centered, then no one else in the whole wide world is as committed to me as I am. So I’ll always be disappointed, even with my future spouse. That’s why I think there must be some bigger truth out there to commit our lives to.
- What do you think God wants for the world? Including you?
- Does that affect you in any way?
- Would you like to have more conversations about Jesus?

For People with Significance and Purpose Questions:

- Did you mark ‘Cheat’? (or give up ‘Integrity’?) What would prevent you from cheating, or from lying on your resume to get the best internship or job?
- Did you mark ‘Do community service’? Why is community service important to you?
- Where is your sense of purpose leading you?
- How do you know that’s right?
- Do you think accomplishing that will have eternal significance?
- In what ways do you think the world needs to be changed? Do you think Jesus is doing something to change this world?
- Can I share with you why I think my sense of purpose grows best when it’s connected to what Jesus is doing in the world?

For People with Relational Questions

- Did you mark ‘To make life-long friends’ or ‘To find a mate’ or ‘Have a family’?
- Where do you think you’ll find community here?
- Where does your sense of what makes a good relationship/friendship good come from?
- Where does the value of a human being come from?
- Do you think God or Jesus has anything to do with that?
- Could I share with you how my faith in Jesus has shaped the value I can see in relationships? “God is relational, and He made us relational, and through Jesus, He’s restoring us in a relational way...”

For People with Truth Questions

- Did you mark down ‘To find the truth’ or ‘To be enlightened’? Why or why not? Do you think there is truth to be known?
- What if you waste a lot of your money, energy, and time on the wrong things, if there are wrong things?
- Do you have a spiritual background that affects how you answer these questions?
- Do you think having a spiritual background supplies us with truth that would affect us? How?
